

AWARDS PRESENTATION

OUTLINE

- Why Awards Matter
- Education on our big 3 (effies / cannes / clio sport) - Lea (effies) + Strat/CNX
- Take a look at what's winning and why
 - Pull “best of” for Cannes, Clio Sports and Effies – Acct
 - Quotes from judges - Dez, Pedro, Brent, Beth (reach out to other judges)
- Ensure we are looking at the right categories and considering beyond simple film entries – things like brand impact, effectiveness, peer to peer, etc.
 - Strat/CNX - know Steph B was working on this already
- What Gatorade needs to change to win:
 - Do we have the bare minimums to win in our big 3? (KPIs, results, ... (?)) - Lea
 - Data can do a section here on data / kpis / results / etc - Lea
 - Why we haven't won before? (we have feedback from last effie we submitted from the judges) - Strat/CNX
 - Are we submitting to the right places (awards / categories). what smaller categories might we succeed in, and are we making the right work to win there? - Strat/CNX
 - Do we have the right support? (internal + gato) - people, case studies, time, money, etc. Do we have the buy in from clients? - Acct + Alice

CATEGORIES TO CONSIDER

WHERE WE SHOULD ENTER

SMALLER/NICHE CATEGORIES TO ENTER

1. Creative B2B (Business-to-Business): Why? Major strategic whitespace with low competition (approx. 400 entries vs. thousands in consumer categories)
 1. Instead of strictly targeting consumers, leverage Gatorade's professional relationships by entering campaigns focused on corporate wellness hydration initiatives, athletic department science programs, or partnerships with professional teams to optimize performance.
 2. ASICS won here recently with a workplace wellness initiative, proving athletic brands can win in B2B
2. Gaming & Esports (Entertainment for Gaming) Why? Most energy drinks dominate this space with lifestyle marketing; Gatorade can disrupt it with utility.
 1. Position hydration as essential for cognitive performance, inside and outside of the game
 2. Ex: Partner with games (like NBA 2K) where in-game characters suffer performance drops (blurred vision, slow sprints) if they don't hydrate
3. Creative Commerce Why? Moving E-commerce into "Entertainment Commerce" by gamifying the moment of purchase during cultural events
4. The Glass Lion / Social Good Why? The award has expanded beyond gender to broader cultural change. With Gatorade's investment in women's sports, there is a natural alignment
 1. Ex. Integrate mental and physical health or address the gender data gap in sports science
5. Sustainable Development Goals (SDG)
 1. Address environmental threats to athletes, specifically heat safety. (Ex. climate-adaptive hydration or advocacy for heat safety protocols in youth sports to prevent heat illness)
6. Niche Craft Categories (Industry Craft, Design, Audio) Why? Fewer entries and higher conversion rates for big brands compared to Film/TV
 1. Industry Craft/Design: Treat the Gx bottle or packaging as a design object.
 2. Audio/Radio: Use ASMR or sonic branding of the "cap pop" and "gulp" sounds.
 3. Film Craft: "Sweat Science Visualization" using thermal imaging or microscopic visuals to create a proprietary aesthetic
7. Titanium (The "Moonshot") Why? Reserved for work that causes systemic change in the industry
 1. Changing the rules of sport itself.

HOW WE MAKE THIS HAPPEN

Do we have the funding needed to create case studies
+ enter the categories needed?

Can we commit across internal + client + IAT
to make this happen?

Need a core client partner
who can:

1. Track down needed results
2. Consolidate feedback
3. Facilitate legal approval

A clear goal for each campaign and piece of work
so we can ensure future success as we build & edit towards that goal.

*Must be attributable to the campaign and/or pieces of work

Do we have the results we need to prove our success?
Includes business, campaign,
AND cultural success.

*Most can be removed from public facing version if we win
